OLLIE JAMES FOR GOOD ROADS

Senator Ollie M. James Shows His Interest In The Good Road Question Here.

Feb. 12, 1918
Senator Ollie M. James shows his interest in the road question in the following letter to Rodman Wiley, Commissioner of public roads, Frankfort.

I am glad to have your letter of the 4th., instant asking me to give you my opinion as to the importance of building good roadways in our state. I feel that this is a movement that is worthy of the united support of the people of Kentucky. It is a well known fact that any section of country develops much more rapidly if the roads are in good condition, making it accessible at all times of the year and greatly facilitating buying and selling operations.

Good roads are uplifting to civilization. They bring the mail to the door of every man daily, they open up the way to the church and the school house for all classes.

At a time like this when every resource of our great Nation should be utilized to the utmost, it seems to me that it is highly important for our highways in Kentucky to be put in such condition that the products of our farms, our dairies, our mines, etc., could be easily transported to the markets of the cities and to the railroads to be sent out for distribution generally. I shall be pleased to co-operate with yourself and other public spirited citizens in Kentucky in every way possible to further the building of good roads.

With kindest regards, I am,
Very truly your friend,
Ollie M. James.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The movement of men to complete the first draft, beginning February, 23, will not be completed within the following five days, as originally planned, but will extend over into March.

DEATH CLAIMS BELOVED LADY

Mrs. Lottie E. Gilbert Succumbs to Grim Reaper at Lisman When Pneumonia Sets In.

Mrs. Jettie Nichols Gilbert, wife of Dr. L. E. Gilbert, and one of the best known and beloved women of this section, passed away at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Nichols, at Lisman Wednesday morning at five o'clock.

Mrs. Gilbert had been very low for several weeks from blood poisoning as the result of frostbitten feet, but the trouble seemed yielding to treatment when a complication of pneumonia set up and a decline followed which rapidly ended in death.

The deceased was a refined, lovely woman, a devout Christian and active in the religious and social life of the community in which she lived. She was universally esteemed and her death brings profound sorrow to all who knew her and appreciated her great worth.

Mrs. Gilbert was about thirty years old and is survived by her husband, parents, and a sister, Mrs. Lloyd Baker, of Lisman.

Funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church at Lisman Thursday afternoon at two o'clock which were conducted by Rev. Jas. F. Price of Marion and Rev. Wallace Clift, of this city, followed by interment in the churchyard—Providence Enterprise.

Clifton Crawford

is Well And Happy.

Feb. 12 1918,

Mr. S. M. Jenkins

Dear Sir,

Am enclosing money for lights for the month of Feb.

We have been having some rather warm weather lately, but the nights are cool and pleasant, there is hardly any thing in this country except pine trees and sand, there is some wild game, several deer have been seen by the boys, one passed back of our tent one afternoon, and ducks and quail, I never saw so many in all my life, the bird law does not go out until March in this state, I must close,

Give your family my best regards, and very best wishes for yourself.

Very Sincerely,
Clifton Crawford.

DIES FAR FROM HOME

Miss Janie Ray McConnell Crosses The Dark River At Tucson Arizona.

Miss Janie Ray McConnell, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McConnell died of tuberculosis at Tucson, Arizona Wednesday night at midnight. Her parents who accompanied her west in January in search of health were with her when the end came. She was conscious until the last moment and told her parents what arrangements she desired at her funeral and burial, and selected her pall bearers from among her girl friends.

Mr. and Mrs. McConnell left Tucson, Arizona with the remains Thursday night, but on account of a late train, which was delayed still further by a freight wreck they did not reach Marion until Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Many friends were at the station to meet them and to offer condolence.

The beloved remains were taken to the old home where a wealth of flowers were in waiting, sweet, silent, witnesses to the popularity of the deceased in this her home. The funeral was preached Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence and the burial was in the new cemetery. Rev. J. B. Trotter officiating and the following young ladies acting as pall bearers: Misses Sarah Jackson and Mary Ray of Fredonia, Irma Perry, Martha Wilborn, Rowena Williams, Elizabeth Rochester, Nell Trotter, Leona Miller, Joanna Rankin and Jewell Rankin.

The deceased was born Nov. 29th., 1894, and in her early childhood she professed faith in Christ, but was not a member of any church. Besides her parents she is survived by one brother Homer McConnell of this city.

The new mound in the "Silent City" was covered with beautiful flowers tokens of love from her associates who were devoted to her and greatly grieved at her untimely taking away. Mr and Mrs. McConnell have the sympathy of every one in the loss of their first born and only daughter, who was a sweet gentle and lovable girl.

Warning To Fertilizer Users.

On account of the shortage of Fertilizer, and shortage of cars, the farmer must bear in mind if he would be sure of getting fertilizer for the spring crops to buy early. We honestly believe if you wait, until you get ready to use the fertilizer, you will be disappointed.

Please let us have your orders and we will fill them as fast as we can get the goods. We have fertilizer ordered and will give notice in this paper when it arrives. This is not a scare, but to help the farmer to be on the safe side.

Big crops will win the war, Fertilizer will make big crops don't fail to use it liberally.

GARFIELD SUSPENSION

Of The Heatless Monday Order is Announced by Fuel Administration.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Suspension of the Monday heatless program was announced by Federal Fuel Administrator Garfield, with the reservation that it may put back into force before the ten week period expires if a return of bad weather brings another breakdown in railroad transportation.

At the same time Dr. Garfield gave state-fuel administrators full authority to continue the closing order in territory in their jurisdiction if in their opinion circumstances demand it.

Final Notice.

All taxes due me as sheriff of Crittenden County must be settled now. I will protect my bondsmen and will begin to levy on property March 1st. You know the law.

Why add costs to your taxes. This is a 10 day notice, and is fair warning to friend and foe. I can't make any exceptions. The money must come.

Delicate Operation

For Marion Boy.

One of the most delicate operations that an eye surgeon is called upon to do was performed today upon the eyes of the son of Mr. W. E. Micks, of Marion, Ky.

The operation is what is known as advancing the superior recti muscles to relieve paralysis of the eye ball. The operation was a success and the young man can now have the use of the eye and sight was permanently restored.

Mr. Micks is shop foreman for one of the large auto truck factories, of Milwaukee, Wis., and left for that city this afternoon. The operation was performed by Dr. S. J. Baker of this city. Madisonville Hustler.

Card of Thanks

In our hour of sorrow when everything seems dark, there is a rift in the clouds which has let some sunshine into our hearts. God has taken our son and husband to Himself but He has given us friends to console and assist us, and His grace to help us bear the affliction. We pray His blessing on all who were kind to us or to Clyde during his illness.
Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McConnell,
Mrs. Ora McConnell.

BECKHAM SHOWS HIS INTEREST

In The Following Letter To Rodman Wiley, Commissioner Of Public Roads.

I am in receipt of your letter of February 4th., asking me to make some expression of opinion as to the need of continuing the work of building good roads in our State.

I feel that it is hardly necessary for me to say much upon that subject, because, as is generally known, I am in favor of every possible effort being used to improve the roads that we have and to build new ones wherever needed. Of course, the fit consideration of our people in these times is to spend their best energies toward those things that will enable us to win the war, but I hope that in doing so our system of roads in the State will not be neglected. In recent years much excellent work has been done in that direction, and I am hopeful that it will be continued, and that the progress made will not be allowed to slacken.

I feel sure that the people of Kentucky will realize the importance and necessity of this work, and will do their best to keep it up.

Very sincerely yours,
J. C. W. Beckham.

Letter From Illinois.

Rosiclare, Ill., Feb. 19, 1918.

Mr. S. M. Jenkins,

Dear Sir and Friend:

You will find enclosed a conversation between William the Kaiser and the Devil.

If it doesn't take too much space of your paper would be glad to have same published, also would be glad to have one or two extra copies of same.

The river has been flowing heavy with ice since Feb. 8th., causing quite an excitement here. Saturday at 2 o'clock the river gorging causing the river to rise several feet, leaving ice stacked along shore from 10 to 50 feet high.

Crafts of all kinds passing from the size of a skiff to large boats. The Owensboro wharf boat which is very large passed by yesterday afternoon about 4 p. m.

Expecting the Cincinnati gorge to arrive here to-morrow which is said to be one of the heaviest yet. So you see there is always something exciting in Rosiclare. With best wishes to yourself and friends.

BUILDING ONE OF AMERICA'S IMMENSE VICTORY-BEARERS

One of the immense freighters being built for the United States government to carry supplies abroad to our troops and our allies. This vessel is nearly completed, and there are hundreds of others in the many yards throughout the United States. Many ships are being built, but still more must be had to carry our troops and supplies overseas. Skilled workmen are being formed into a huge industrial army under the department of labor, and each worker will receive a certificate and a button showing him to be a volunteer in this work upon which directly rests the fate of world-wide democracy.

BRITISH TROOPS MOVED ON FRENCH CANAL BARGES

Photographs have arrived in this country showing troops being moved to the front on motorlorries, on light railways and on foot, but perhaps never before has a picture come showing troops being moved to the front on barges via canals, which bring them a short distance from the front. The rest of the journey is made on foot. These barges are loaded with the happy Tommies, and they make reasonably fast progress to the front, though of course not as fast as motorlorries or light railways. The Tommies enjoy this method of travel, as it gives them a good opportunity to view the prettier sections of France.

FIERCEST OF FIGHTERS

The French colonials are probably the fiercest fighters in the French army. The Germans at any rate fear them more than anything else on earth. It is said that these "colored gemmen" never take a prisoner.

Frost Bitten.

Harold Mueller, a young civil engineer of Richmond, whose work carries him in the country and in association with a good many farmers, tells this story: His mother told him to be on the lookout for any bargains the farmer might offer him. While driving along the road one day in his car he noticed a sign on the fence which read, "Take home all the pumpkins you want—free." Mueller thought to himself, "Here is a farmer after my own heart, who is not a tightwad!" He got three of the largest pumpkins he could find and returned home with his find. He was quite proud of his find, and a few days later inquired of his mother when he could hope for a nice pumpkin pie. His heart sank when he learned the pumpkins had fallen to pieces. The free pumpkins had been frost bitten.—Indianapolis News.

PETROGRAD'S LONG MILK LINES

Long line of women and children waiting to buy milk in Petrograd. Most of them carry pithers, but the supply is so limited that they get very little. This line of people eager to buy necessities can be found at almost all the stores, but the staple foods are very scarce.

CONDENSATIONS

More than 2,000 motorists who failed to stop, look and listen, were killed at grade crossings in 1916, and many more were injured. The number of the killed and injured in these accidents is increasing 25 per cent a year. The houses, streets and roads in Malta are built of nearly white stone, and during the summer months these reflect the sun's rays so strongly that colored glasses are largely worn by both the native population and foreigners. Many sizes and forms of frames and many different colors of glass are used.

A demand for trunks and valises of American make can be created in Paraguay. Those now in general use are of local manufacture and are of an inferior grade. The foreign and domestic commerce bureau will supply a list of importers to firms interested in securing this business.

In a report on business conditions in New Zealand in 1917 Consul General A. A. Winslow states that there is now a fine opening for all kinds of American goods. Agencies should be established with complete stocks available for rush orders and the territory should be covered by competent salesmen.

NEWS CULLINGS From Kentucky

Paducah.—Charged with stealing peas and soy beans, valued at $60, from George Fisher, a farmer, Henry Wood was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Chas. Clark and Constable Lige Cross.

Carlisle.—Four indictments in the Nicholas Circuit Court against the Adams Express Co., in which it was charged with delivering liquor to a minor, were dismissed when the court sustained demurrers to the indictments.

Frankfort.—Governor Stanley pardoned Ed Daly, of Carter county, who is serving a two-year penitentiary sentence for housebreaking. He remitted the 10 days' jail sentence and the disfranchisement imposed on Roy White, of Mercer County, for carrying concealed deadly weapons.

Louisville.—Mrs. Ella Strassel, 44 years old, was found guilty of manslaughter in the criminal court, and the jury gave her five years in the penitentiary. Mrs. Strassel shot and killed James Cornelius, a barber, 28 years old, at 212 West Chestnut street, on the night of October 2 last.

Eddyville.—W. E. Crumbaugh, a coal dealer here, fell on the ice at his home and cut a deep gash in his head, requiring four stitches to close. Mrs. Kizzie Smith, of this place, also suffered a severe fall on the ice when her right wrist was fractured and sustained other injuries by a fall on the ice.

Owensboro.—Herbert Morris, of Maceo, this county, was returned to Camp Zachary Taylor by Deputy Sheriff Poole. Morris is 20 years of age and volunteered last summer. He came home shortly before Christmas on a ten-day furlough, it is said. He sold his soldier's uniform and other equipment.

Flemingsburg.—A young man by the name of Dillon, of Foxport, in the east end of the county, and who was working in Indiana at the time of the registration June 5, was taken into custody by the authorities for failing to register. Dillon is the first man in the county charged with trying to evade the registration law.

Mt. Sterling.—During the recent cold spell farmers of Montgomery county have sustained considerable losses by stock freezing and sheep and cattle falling on the icy pastures and dying from exposure. Several heavy cattle have broken legs and had to be killed. Many ewes have fallen heavily on ice, and unborn lambs were killed.

Winchester.—Floyd Day, of this city, received a unique gift in the form of a full-grown wild cat that was killed by a man who discovered it in one of the oil fields near Torrent. A dog sent the animal and when the man arrived on the scene, the two were having quite a battle. He went up quietly and gave the wild cat a blow with an axe.

Bowling Green.—Two oil wells were struck in Allen county recently. A well was located on the farm of J. R. Johnson, near Gainesville. This land is leased by William Hamilton, and produces six barrels an hour. The other well was struck on the Phillips farm, leased by McMahon, Kirkpatrick and Yoke, and is located at Petro-leum.

Harrodsburg.—Elijah Preston was awarded $3,000 damages against Pierce Royalty in circuit court. Preston's suit was brought to recover for injuries alleged to have been sustained by him when his motorcycle was struck by Royalty's automobile. Preston was allowed an additional $100 to cover the damage done to the motorcycle.

Carlisle.—The Nicholas County Board has just finished the examination of 150 young men of this county under draft. The quota of this county in the call for the remainder of the first draft is twenty-one. One of the young men called is Martin McCann, Clerk of the Nicholas Circuit Court, who was elected last November to fill the remainder of the term of Solomon Robertson, deceased.

Winchester.—Herbert Heflin, prominent farmer and lawyer of the Mt. Sterling pike, near this city, has lost six fine cattle within little more than a week. The animals developed symptoms of poisoning, and in spite of skilled veterinary attention, died in rapid succession. The loss of the cattle is estimated at $1,000. Dr. Frank Miller, veterinarian, is of the opinion that the cattle were poisoned from tainted silage. Mr. Heflin, however, stated that the silage appeared to be in good condition.

Campbellsville.—As the result of a pistol duel fought in the telephone exchange here D. A. Hatcher, a merchant, 28 years old, and Tom L. Turner, until recently coroner of this county, are dead. Turner was about 42 years old.

Paris.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Bourbon Fiscal Court a number of farmers filed claims for damages for sheep destroyed by vultures. Forty claims were filed with the Fiscal Court, amounting to $3,566.

Stanford.—Of the 312 men examined for army service by the war board here, 200 were put in the first class. This is said to be a record that has not been excelled so far.

Harrodsburg.—Elijah Preston was awarded $3,000 damages for injuries received when a motorcycle he was riding was run into by an auto driven by Pres Royalty in this county.

Winchester.—The family of J. H. Day, a farmer living on the Mt. Sterling pike, four miles from here, had a narrow escape from death when their home burned. The members of the family made their escape in their night clothing. The house and contents were destroyed.

Lexington.—The number of individual suits against the Kentucky Natural Gas Co., based upon the allegations that the company failed to furnish a sufficient supply of gas during January and charged exorbitantly for the service it gave, has been increased to approximately 200.

Bowling Green.—Deaton Cherry, 30 years old, met a tragic death two miles from this city in a runaway. The man was thrown from his wagon and was found impaled upon a barbed-wire fence. He was dead when help reached him. John Barber, who also was in the wagon, escaped with slight injuries.

Lancaster.—United States Deputy Marshal Winfrey arrested James Simpson, a farmer, at his home five miles from Lancaster, on a warrant charging him with having made "treasonable utterances" against the Federal government. Simpson was taken to Danville, where he is confined in the county jail.

Pikeville.—Pauline Saad, the 4-year-old daughter of J. I. Saad, photographer, of this city, was fatally burned when her clothing caught fire while her mother was out of the room. Pauline had been the subject of some lovely art pictures by her father. One appeared some time ago on the front cover of a leading magazine.

Owensboro.—W. Fred Struck, of Louisville, was elected head of the Kentucky Retail Lumber Dealers' Association at its final session held here. Other officers elected were S. F. McCormick, of Lexington, vice president; A. J. Thornton, of Morganfield, second vice president; J. Crow Taylor, of Louisville, secretary.

Augusta.—Patrick J. Maloney, of Wellsburg, aged 30, oldest son of Martin Maloney, died at the base hospital at Camp Sheridan of pneumonia. He enlisted in the 148th Infantry at Cincinnati last summer and his life was insured for $10,000. He tried to salute his captain, J. M. Colley, a few minutes before he died, but was too weak.

Lebanon.—The farm of the late John Taylor, near Gravel Switch, sold at public sale to wind up the estate, was purchased by Richard M. Chief, of Bradfordsville. The price paid was $87,200 which is a new record for a farm in Marion county. On the farm, which is considered one of the best in the county, is much white oak and walnut timber.

Glasgow.—Oscar Norris, of Good Luck, in Metcalfe county, was arrested charged with uttering a forged check on the Citizens National Bank, of Glasgow, Ky., and is in jail in default of a $400 bond for his appearance before the County Judge G. M. Bohannon for examining trial. O. E. Cooksey, of this county, is also in jail on the same charge.

Lexington.—Indictments have been returned against J. E. Delph, Jr., and Emmet Martin, charging in one that they made a fraudulent election return, and in the other that they unlawfully and willfully performed the duties of election officers in such a way as to hinder the objects of the election law. Delph recently was given four years in prison for an alleged election offense.

Maysville.—The three largest buildings of the Glenn Springs College, a Baptist mountain mission school, eighteen miles east of here, were destroyed by fire involving a loss of about $150,000. The structures destroyed were the administration building, girls' dormitory and boys' dormitory. All of the one hundred and fifty students housed in the two dormitories escaped without injury.

Paducah.—After an investigation made by Superintendent Muscoe Burnett, he stated he believed the two sticks of dynamite found in a tool box at the plant of the Paducah Water Co. came there unintentionally and was not the work of some one desiring to destroy the plant. The dynamite is believed to have been part of a supply used by the West Kentucky coal Co. at its mines at Caseyville, Ky., and probably was laid on a pile of coal and forgotten.

Paducah.—While awaiting his turn to answer questions in filling out his questionnaire, Fred Spence, a young man who had been taken from the county jail to the court house, leaped out of a window and escaped. All trace of him was lost a short distance from the court house.

Lexington.—Morgan Corman, a barkeeper, has been arrested on a charge of having shot and wounded James O. Williamson, also a barkeeper. Corman claims to have shot Williamson in self-defense.

That Woke Her.

The visitor had dropped in "just for a minute," but she remained about three hours after the minute was up. Little Freddie had formed several plans, the execution of which must be postponed till the departure of his mother's guest, so he sat quietly thinking things.

"Dear little man!" gushed the visitor. "And what is he thinking about so deeply?" "I was wondering if it wasn't time for you to be going," said Freddie. "Hush!" said his mother. Then, turning to her guest: "You mustn't be offended, Mrs. Smith. Children will go blurring out the truth without thinking, but they don't mean anything by it."

Then Mrs. Smith recollected that she had only three minutes in which to catch the last car home.

Not a Hero.

"A fellow came into my office this morning and persuaded me to give him a dollar. He said he had seen service on a British tank." "That's interesting. Did he tell you about his experiences at the front?" "No, and for a good reason. I discovered later that he had merely helped to paint the thing before it left the factory."

McAdoo Wants Ohio

River Used By U. S.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Steps toward greater utilization of navigable rivers, canals and other inland waterways to relieve railroads of a big freight burden
by Director General McAdoo in appointment of a committee to study water transportation that it may be co-ordinated with rail
hauling and make early recommendations that some definite
measures may be taken this summer.

Mr. McAdoo is strongly in favor of government building
or subsidy of barges and canal
boats, and it is understood to be his intention to send large quan-
ties of heavy freight over the country's inland waterways
within a few months, or as soon
as boats are available.

This applies particularly to the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio
rivers, the Erie, Chesapeake and Ohio canals and the Atlantic
coastwise canals.

SEVEN SPRINGS

Mrs. Elizabeth Perrian died at her home in this vicinity Saturday evening
Feb. 16, 1918, after a lingering illness
of several months, she was afflicted with Bright's Disease. Her remains were interred at Dycusburg Cemetery
on Sunday evening. Brother Charley Hill made a very impressive talk. Mrs.
Perrian was born in Virginia, in 1829.
She was married to Matthew Henry, in 18-47. He died, and she was then married to Barnett Perrian, who preceded her to the grave many years ago. Mrs.
Perrian was near 90 years of age. She professed faith in Christ at an early age, and lived a consistent Christian life until death, she was a member of Dycusburg Baptist Church, at the time of her death and had been for many years. She was the mother of twelve children. Mrs. Perrian spoke of dying
many times during her long illness,
and always expressed her willingness
to go, she was conscious to the last,
and told her friends and loved ones to prepare to meet their God, told them
the songs she wanted sung at her funeral, and also the scripture she wanted read.

Gladstone

J. H. Hicks, of near DeKoven, visited
R. L. Phillips near Gladstone.

Moving is the order of the day this week. Rossie Brantley bought Des-mon Crowell out at Gladstone and went into business, and Desmon moved to Blackford; Clarence Jeffreys moved to the place vacated by Mr. Brantley,
on the Lee Brantley place near Gladstone.

E. E. Phillips' school closed Feb. 14.
Miss Stella Dean, who is teaching Hood's Creek school, went home to have the mumps, but had the rosolia instead. She has two weeks and two days of school to teach.

Clayton Boyrette, of Curlew, is visiting J. B. Scott this week.

The Quinine That Does Not Affect the Head
Because of its tonic and laxative effect, LAX-

WHAT IS LAX-FOS

LAX-FOS IS AN IMPROVED CASCARA
A DIGESTIVE LAXATIVE
CATHARTIC AND LIVER TONIC

LAX-FOS is not a Secret or Patent Medicine but is composed of the following
old-fashioned roots and herbs:

CASCARA BARK
BLUE FLAG ROOT
RHUBARB ROOT
BLACK ROOT
MAY APPLE ROOT
SENNA LEAVES
AND PEPSIN

In LAX-FOS the CASCARA is improved by
the addition of these digestive ingredients making it better than ordinary CAS-CARA, and thus the combination acts not only as a stimulating laxative and cathartic but also as a digestive and liver tonic.
Syrup laxatives are weak, but LAX-FOS
combines strength with palatable, aromatic taste and does not gripe or disturb the stomach. One bottle will prove LAX-FOS is invaluable for Constipation,
Indigestion or Torpid Liver. Price 50c.

THE DUTY OF THE CITIZEN

Address Delivered by Virgil Moore
At Hopkinsville.

Recently M. and Mrs. M. E.
Bacon of Hopkinsville presented
a service flag to the Methodist Church of that City and Mrs.
Bacon who was a Marion girl,
being a daughter of Judge and Mrs. James A. Moore, asked her nephew, V. Y. Moore of Madisonville, also a former citizen of Marion, to make the presentation
speech which he consented to do.

We are always glad to know
of any noble deed, done by our boys or girls and we think in this case each of them deserve
praise. Mr. Moore's speech follows—

In has seemed to me that in a discussion of the subject of the duty of the citizen in the present crisis one might well inquire at the outstart the reason for the existence of any duty on the part of the citizen.

It is all very well to be patriotic with an abstract sort of patriotism. We are taught from the cradle to be patriotic—to love
our country—just as we are taught to love God or to love our parents; but it is a dull teacher
who tries to instill into the tender mind a love for one so intangible as God without pointing out
the many generous blessings He has given us which entitles Him
to that love, and the parental
watchcare which follows us
through the day and knows no
rest in the night, the hourly
evidences of supremely
unselfish affection which father
and mother pour on us from earliest memory, make filial devotion
the easiest duty man ever had to perform.

But with teaching love of country, the rule seems to have been different, the child and further along the man, is told that he should be patriotic, he is taught
to rise when the "Star Spangled Banner" is played, to sing when
"America" is sung, and to applaud when, at political speak-
ings, to make sure of safe
ground to start on, some politician offers a few generic and wholly obvious platitudes about "this great nation of ours." Further than that the average citizen
knows little about his government, save that it taxes him
regularly, and if he be not a
cautious and righteous man,
arrests him occasionally. Unless he has taken the trouble to sit down and think it out for himself—a habit which we Twentieth Century Americans have not formed to any alarming extent—he has no conception that love of country and service of country are obligations as binding as any tie ever welded in the forge of life.

And so, as I try to tell you,
what I think is the duty of the citizen to the nation, in this, its terrible hour of trial, I do not believe I can better meet the demands of a materialistic age than
to point out what the nation has done for the citizen to earn for it
the right to demand from him at this time his unswerving loyalty
and his unquestioning obedience.
And if my remarks sound very like a Fourth of July speech at a crossroads barbecue, I offer no
apology and make no defense except to say that in my opinion
much of what Col. Roosevelt
would term our "spiritual un-
preparedness" at the beginning of the war was due to the fact that we have had,
here of late, too few Fourth of July speeches and too few crossroads celebrations of our national birthday.

As an American citizen—an humble American citizen—but
one who by virtue of his citizenship possesses certain rights and enjoys certain privileges, I will

open in my own name an account
with my country, on a large page
in a tremendous ledger, an account which might be appropriately headed, "V. Y. Moore, to the United States of America Debtor."

The first charge against me
goes back for its date to the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers
at Plymouth Rock, back to the time when that little band of
brave hearted men and women
who held duty higher than self,
first set foot in a wilderness
known to them only for its terrors, in order that they might worship God according to the dictates of their individual con-sciences. And for all their terrible battles against a thousand powerful foes, against Indian and wild beast
 and the untamed elements of Nature
 herself, I am in debt to my country.

The item on the ledger brings me
down through the passing years,
through weeks and months of trial
and tribulation and struggle, through
lives of weary toil and endless conflict,
through days of savage battle for pioneer fathers, through nights of fear
haunted, sleepless anxiety for pioneer
mothers; and for every day of body
racking labor in that wilderness, for every brave fight with painted savage
for every dreary midnight hour passed
by terror stricken women in rude huts
on the edge of gloomy forests, I am
in debt to my country.

I look for other items on the page,
and about the year 1776 I find a heavy charge—for on the page I see the picture of a weak and poverty ridden
people, crushed and mangled under the heavy hand of tyranny, their numbers
few, their material power a thing to be scoffed at, opposed by one of the greatest nations the world ever saw;
and yet with the indomitable courage
of unwavering conviction, the unflinching loyalty of men who would lay down their lives for a principle, I see them enduring hardships that you and I will never know, that our liberties might be made secure.

I hear the clarion tones of Patrick
Henry, as he sends forth the immortal
words which have been the bedrock
of our national existence ever since they were uttered and I realize that
as he said then he could almost feel
the hangman's noose about his neck as swift and frightful punishment for his daring. I see that little group of pa-triotists gathered around the most fateful document since Magna Charta, watching them as they attach their signatures
to it each fully aware that unless
that Declaration of Independence
were sustained by the arms of his countrymen, he had signed his death warrant. I see the minute men at Lexington and Bunker Hill, their announcement so limited that they must wait
to see the whites of the enemy's eyes
before they could begin firing. I see brave women melting household ornaments to make bullets, tearing up family Bibles for gun wadding, and enduring every privation known to mankind
that their husbands and sons might be supplied with their needs on the battle field—a Nathan Hale who regretted
that he had but one life to give for his country, an Israel Putnam, who left his plow in the field to seize the sword; a George Washington who went on his knees in the wilderness to carry
his country troubles to the throne of his God.

A hundred thousand unnamed heroes
who suffered and bled and died for your liberties and mine—they are all on that page.

And every one of them—for the bravery of Patrick Henry, the calm courage
of the signers of the Declaration, for every heroic deed at Lexington and Bunker Hill, for every privation endured by Revolutionary mothers for the martyrdom of Nathan Hale, the brilliance of Putnam, the steadfast wisdom of Washington, for every bloody footprint in the snow at Valley Forge, for every unmarked grave on the hillside of New England, I am
in debt to my country.

I cast my eyes further down the page
and as I pass line by line, the items
mount higher and higher against me.
With every year I find a charge—some-
man's heroism, some woman's sacrifice,
the continuing industry and unwavering courage of a great people with a mighty purpose.

I come to 1860, and from there to '65
the tear stained, blood bespattered
entries follow one after another so thick and fast, each charge larger than the one before it, that I know now
once for all that my debt to my country will never be paid.

Hundreds of thousands of dying men
a whole nation running red with the blood of its sons, spilt by its sons,
starvation, poverty, misery and despair
superhuman feats of heroism, Christ-
like acts of self sacrifice, multiplied
thousands of freely given lives; and as a result of it all a great country saved,
its people reunited, their differences
wiped out, their liberties made secure
and their homes made peaceful, to be so handed down to you and me.

All these charges I see on that page
just charges I know them to be, every one of them I owe. And while I na-

called it my page, in its items as I recite them, every one of you should see your page the page if you please, of the American citizen, for every charge on
it, is a charge against every man woman and child in the country. It took it all to give us the privileges
we enjoy to day. It took it all to give us the privilege of homes and families of happy heartstones and peaceful firesides, it took it all to give us schools and colleges, those firmest
bulwarks against future oppression and disaster; it took it all to give us the privilege of carrying on, each in his own way, his own legitimate business
free from interference, from unjust
taxation and from riotous despoilers, it took it all to give to us our churches, and to each one of us the church of his choice, to bestow on us
the blessed boon of being able to go in-
to these sacred edifices, in tranquility
and peace, and hear through the holy quiet of the Sabbath morning, far from the clash of arms and the shriek of invading shell, those aged old words of comfort and abiding faith, "The Lord
is in His holy temple."

These are the precious privileges of American citizens today. They come to us as birthright, a heritage handed down by our forefathers unasked, unearned, unpaid for. These are some of the things the country has done, yet,
is doing daily, for the citizen. The items are all on the debit side of the ledger. Is there any question but that the time has come for some entries on the other side?

I believe that above all the days
which will ever come in your life or mine, this is our day of settlement,
not of complete settlement,
for that can never be, but of partial settlement, the largest payment we are able to make for the rights of American citizenship.

The service flag of your church
which you plan to unfurl here today
with its brave little array of stars on a background of purest white, fittingly symbolizing the purity of the church
home that has given these men to the nation's cause, is mute but convincing
testimony that here among you were American citizens who knew their duty
to their country, and who are offering to make the greatest possible sacrifice
to pay their debt to her. Whatever you and I may do, we can never equal
their supreme payment their offer to lay down their lives for long ago was written among the treasure of divine wisdom, "Greater love than this hath no man." But I believe that you who have given, then you who have seen
these brethren of yours in God's church,
march away from your midst into that chapel house of destruction across the waters, with smiles on their faces and songs on their lips, will receive from
that very sight a better lesson of the duty of the citizen than could be woven together by the master orators of the world.

For you have seen your own go forth.

Over in Madisonville some time ago
when our Red Cross campaign was on,
many of our young ladies put on the insignia of that noble order and went
from house to house, soliciting memberships. In some places they were rebuffed some urged poverty, some were not interested, some were merely acting
on the exploded theory that they could carry their money with them into the world to come, and so in many places
they were turned away. But when they came to a home that had sent a soldier boy to the front, when they found a family who set down to every
meal with a vacant space at the table,
who gathered around the hearthstone
at night with an empty chair in the circle,
whose ears were straining all the lone-
some hours of the day, for the cheery
laugh of "big brother," that they may never hear again. Ah! when they found
one of those homes, they found them
waiting and anxious to join, and without urging or explanation, down went
the names of every member of the family, from the head of the house to the tossled haired tot, whose little warm
clinging body no doubt concealed the goodby tears that Uncle Sam's soldier
was too proud to shed before the others.

They knew their duty for their own
had gone.

And you who after today will look
with solemn pride on the service flag
which will stand sentinels over the sancti-
tude of your church, even as our armies today are standing sentinel
to save our homes of disorder from the blasphemous generation that has been visited on old World's madness, you,
who can look on the silent evidence of
the protective shield of your country
your church and yourselves, by your contributions in these happy days
of peace, will see in every star a call
to service, to sacrifice, to the payment
of a just and unending debt.

It is not for me to tell what particular path your duty will call you, "From each according to his ability." I can merely point out that your debt is too large ever to be overpaid. If only we will all of us, strive with our might to
pay what we can, in charity, obedience,
in loyalty, in service of lips and hands
and hearts as well, there need never
be any doubt as to the result. "For God
our help in ages past, our hope for years to come" yet rules in His Heaven
and a great and powerful people,
reaching out a hand in love and sympathy to these weak and helpless citizens, who are indeed in the "large debt," that the land of the living
may be a land of the living.

What Harry Sommers Thinks
About Re-Electing Ollie James.

The Lexington newspapers
grow disconsolate over the showing made by Kentucky's two United States senators, and begin their campaign to secure better representation for the state by launching a boom for Judge Charles Kerr of Fayette
county, to succeed Senator
James. Judge Kerr is a republican, and a man of ability and character, but we believe that at this time it would be something
close to a national misfortune to defeat Senator James.

There has hardly within our recollection been a senator into
whose first term has been crowded more valuable services than Ollie M. James. He has measured up to every opportunity
offered to him, and by his sound
support of the President on every domestic and foreign policy, his services have received a generous recognition at the White House as in the country
at large. A ready debater, he won his spurs early in the Wilson administration in a tilt with the recalcitrant Louisiana senators
on the question of free sugar,
and since that day when the President wanted to squelch an opposition, sometimes sneaking,
sometimes contemptible, and
sometimes disloyal, he has invariably called on Ollie M. James.
It was always done well.

The views of the News and Senator James are far apart on some questions, but at a time
when our national security over-
shadows every other consideration we cannot afford to swap
the ability, patriotism and training of Senator James for a man
that is untied and unproven.

SHIPPING STRIKE SETTLED BY WILSON

PROMPT ACTION BY CARPENTERS' HEAD AFTER APPEAL TO LOYALTY.

WORK WITH NON-UNIONISTS

Tieup of Shipbuilding Would Be One of the Gravest Blows Possible to Inflict on Country, Says President Wilson.

New York.—William L. Hutcheson, general president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters of America, called off the strike in the shipyards at the port of New York and other eastern points after receiving a telegram from President Wilson.

He immediately sent messages to all of the brotherhood representatives instructing them to send word out to the men to report at their places for work Monday morning. There were more than 6,000 men who returned immediately at President Hutcheson's order.

The message that was received from President Wilson deeply impressed the labor leaders here. They held a long conference, at which all phases of the situation were discussed. The order to call off the strike was issued after it was decided to take the matter of adjustment of their differences with the shipyard employers up directly with President Wilson.

The labor leaders took the appeal of the president more as an indictment charging them with being unpatriotic, union men explained here last night. They will return to their places and will work, if need be, beside non-union men until such time as their difficulties may be adjusted. It was explained that the order to return was issued as a response to the president's appeal and as an evidence of their confidence in him rather than any "giving up the fight."

President Wilson took hold of the shipbuilding strike with an iron hand. He sent a telegram to the general president of the carpenters and joiners in New York ordering the men to return to work forthwith.

His message breathed no pleasure. It told the men bluntly that it was their duty in the nation's crisis to further the shipbuilding program and not obstruct it. Refusal on their part to leave their differences to arbitration was "undoubtedly giving aid and comfort to the enemy."

GERMAN TROOPS MUTINY.

Refuse to Obey Commands When Ordered to French Front.

Petrograd.—German soldiers at Grodno and Kovno, according to a report received here from Moscow, have refused to obey a command to move to the French front. The troops have entrenched themselves under the protection of their own artillery and have defeated a detachment of forces which the German staff sent to punish them.

Labor Indorses War Aims.

Washington.—American labor's indorsement of war aims as stated by President Wilson and recognition that the war against Prussianism is a workingman's war is recorded in a declaration by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. The declaration says the peace parleys between Russia and Germany have shown the futility of diplomatic negotiations until the German militarists are convinced they cannot superimpose their will on the world.

SOLDIERS EAGER TO FIGHT

Americans' Anxiety to Get at Grips With Enemy Brings Highest Praise From French.

Grand Headquarters of the French Army in France.—American and French troops for several days back have been holding in unison the front line trenches of one of the most formidable battlefields of the war, the name of which is known throughout the world. The immediate impression gained in conversation with both French and Americans facing the enemy side by side is that the union is not only of fighting forces, but of firm purpose to win victory by mutual aid. "There is only one criticism to be made in connection with the Americans," said a distinguished French officer to the correspondent, who spent a whole day among the Americans holding the line. "They are too anxious to get at grips with the enemy."

American officers confirmed this, declaring that their chief trouble was to restrain their men.

DEPORTING MORE BELGIANS.

Despite Denials to the Contrary 2,700 Belgians Were Deported.

Havre.—Deportations of Belgians by the Germans are continuing, despite the protestation to the contrary by the German authorities, according to information received by the Belgian government. Within the past few weeks the Germans have carried off 2,700 persons from the town of Lokeren, in East Flanders, and put them on military work on the western front.

GREATEST BATTLE OF ALLIES IN SIGHT

AMERICAN, FRENCH AND BRITISH PREPARING TO RESIST EFFORT OF GERMANS.

HUNS HAVE 175 DIVISIONS

Highest Points and Best Observations Are Occupied by Armies of the Allies and Greatest Confidence Is Felt.

French Front.—The German and Franco-British armies on the frontiers of France and Belgium at the present moment are preparing for the opening of the gigantic struggle which went on throughout 1917, and ceased only with winter.

Each army has probably a fairly accurate idea of the other's strength. The French and British know they have facing them 155 German divisions, 85 of which are in front of the French and 70 in front of the British lines. (Since this dispatch was written there has been a considerable increase in the German strength on the western front. A cable later from this same correspondent said the Germans now had on the western front 175 divisions, or about 2,100,000 men.) To give the total forces on the allies' side might possibly afford some information to the enemy.

When the initiative may come, when weather conditions permit a resumption of fighting on a large scale, cannot for the time being be predicted, but it appears probable that these millions of soldiers must soon come to close grips.

The armies continue to harry each other. Ever since the battle of Malmaison and Cambrai minor encounters have taken place almost constantly, each side trying to find out the weak spots of the other or making feints to discover the intentions of the opposing army. In Lorraine, in Alsace, before Verdun, in Champagne, and even around St. Quentin, the Germans have attempted trench raids of more or less importance very frequently during the past few weeks, sometimes with strong artillery support, on other occasions purely surprise attacks by infantry units. In all cases they have been unsuccessful, while, on the other hand, the French in their inroads into the German lines have generally been able to carry out their entire plan of reconnaissance and have returned to their lines only after destroying the enemy's works and usually bringing back with them a batch of prisoners.

The results of all these small combats can be seen only after the general engagement has begun. For the present the allied armies occupy very favorable positions for whatever may occur. As a sequel to all the heavy fighting in the fall, they obtained possession of numbers of the highest points and the best observatories, and they have since held them with the firmest of grips, and even in some places improved their positions. There they await the continuation of the battle with the greatest confidence.

VERNON CASTLE IS KILLED IN MISHAP

HERO OF MANY THRILLING ENCOUNTERS ON FRENCH FRONT MEETS DEATH AT CAMP.

NOTED FLYING INSTRUCTOR

Fall of Fifty Feet While Teaching a Student at British Training Camp in Texas Causes Death of Once Famous Dancer.

Fort Worth.—Capt. Vernon Castle, known to thousands in America as a dancer par excellence, and later noted for many thrilling exploits in the air duels upon the western front, flying instructor with the English royal flying corps here, was killed in a fall of only 50 feet, 15 miles west of this city, when his machine crashed to earth while Capt. Castle was endeavoring to avoid a collision with another machine.

In the machine at the time was a student, Cadet R. Peters, an American, who was being trained by the British. Castle was seated in the front seat of the instruction plane. Instead of the rear, as is generally the custom of instructors. The student escaped from the accident with only a black eye, and had Castle been occupying the rear seat he would probably have escaped serious injury.

19 BRITISH VESSELS SUNK

Activity of Submarines Results in Loss of Thirteen Vessels of More Than 1,600 Tons.

London.—Nineteen British merchantmen were sunk by mine or submarine in the past week, according to the admiralty statement. Of these, 13 vessels were of 1,600 tons or more, and six were under that tonnage. Three fishing craft also were sunk.

The official summary says: Arrivals, 2,401; departures, 2,274; British merchantmen of over 1,600 tons sunk by mine or submarine, 13; British merchantmen of less than 1,600 tons, 6; fishing vessels sunk, 3; British merchantmen unsuccessfully attacked 11. The loss to British shipping in the past week shows a considerable increase over that of the previous week, which totaled 15 vessels, 10 of them over 1,600 tons. In the preceding three weeks the losses were eight, eight and 15, respectively.

BOLO PASHA GETS DEATH SENTENCE

COURT MARTIAL RENDERS ITS VERDICT AFTER 15 MINUTES DELIBERATION.

TRIES TO CORRUPT EDITORS

One Co-Defendant Gets Like Sentence, Another Gets Three Years in Prison—Money Passed Through New York Banks.

Paris.—Bolo Pasha was sentenced to death.

The court martial which condemned Bolo Pasha to death deliberated for only 15 minutes.

Darius Porchere, an accountant, who was a co-defendant, was sentenced to three years' imprisonment. Filippo Cavalline, another co-defendant, who is under arrest in Italy, was sentenced to death, although he is not within the court's jurisdiction.

The speedy return of the court martial came almost as a greater surprise to the crowds in the courtroom awaiting the verdict than the actual sentence of death itself, which had been predicted from the outset.

Bolo took the announcement with apparent calm, but Porchere, who had sat throughout the trial stolid and stupid in appearance, was visibly moved, though whether at his own escape from his patron's fate or at the sentence imposed upon Bolo, was not easy to determine.

The crowd made no demonstration, but filed noisily from the court room discussing the verdict.

Paul Bolo Pasha's court martial was one of the first of the so-called cases of "intelligence with the enemy" and came up for trial before the third court martial of Paris on Feb. 4. Bolo Pasha was charged with having capitalized the company that bought the Paris newspaper Le Journal with money obtained from the Germans.

It had been charged that Germany, in attempting to bribe French statesmen and leaders and to influence French opinion by subsidizing newspapers in France or founding new publications to disseminate the spirit of pacifism or defeat, devoted a sum of money in the neighborhood of 10,000,000 marks. Bolo himself was said to have had the use of a fund of more than $1,500,000 to be used in attempting to corrupt the French press.

GREAT INCREASE IN CROPS

Million Acres Added to Crop Production in Great Britain Since Beginning of the War.

London.—Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer and government leader in the House of Commons, replying to criticisms of the government with respect to its home policy, said that in 1917 the rational service department had put into the army 820,646 additional men and placed in employment at home 731,000 men and 804,000 women.

England, said the chancellor, was the only country in the war where there had not been a diminution in food production. A million additional acres were being put under the plow. This year 800,000 acres more had been cultivated in England and 400,000 more in Scotland and Ireland. The total stocks of wheat in Great Britain at the end of December, 1917, exceeded those at the end of December, 1916, by 1,000,000 bushels. In 1917 there was built in Great Britain 1,163,474 tons of shipping, and 170,000 tons were obtained from abroad.

GERMANY RENEWS WAR UPON RUSSIA

ACCORDING TO REPORTS FROM HOLLAND, KAISER WILL BEGIN ANOTHER OFFENSIVE.

PETROGRAD IS ALLEGED GOAL

Failure of Russia, Says Wilhelm, Automatically Ends Armistice and Operations Will Be Resumed For Protection of Ukraine.

London.—Germany has resolved to renew military activities against Northern Russia. This decision is said to have been reached at a conference at Imperial headquarters, special dispatches from Holland say. The conference was attended by Emperor William, Chancellor von Hertling, Field Marshal von Hindenburg, Gen. von Ludendorff, Foreign Secretary von Kuhlmann and others.

The "no war, but no peace" plan of Leon Trotzky, Bolshevik foreign minister, was returned at the conference, according to the Amsterdam correspondent of the Daily Express, and as Trotzky does not want peace, he will get war. Invasion of Great Russia, it is added, will continue at any rate until Petrograd is occupied by German troops.

A dispatch to the Daily News from Rotterdam says that the Germans take the view that Trotzky's declaration, though it did not end the war, automatically ended the armistice. (The armistice expired Feb. 14.) The Germans now consider that they have a free hand and mean to use the opportunity.

This, according to the correspondent, does not mean necessarily that the Germans will immediately try to reach Petrograd, but more probably that they will support the Ukraine by force of arms. The Germans, he says, are carrying out an active propaganda in the Ukraine for the purpose of suggesting to the radicals that the new state is endangered by the Bolsheviks. It is declared that this is all part of Germany's scheme for breaking up the former Russian empire with a view to extending her own power and influence over the new states, of whom it is posing as protector.

It is certain that the Bolsheviks are now moving troops against the Ukraine, a Berlin dispatch to the Koelnische Volks Zeitung says, and the Central Powers do not intend to allow themselves thus to be robbed of the fruits of their lately concluded peace. The newspaper adds that it "probably has been decided at the conference at Imperial headquarters to resume operations on the Northern Russian front for the protection of the Ukraine."

U. S. BATTERIES AID FRENCH

Effective Assistance on Champagne Front by Americans Bring Victory to French Troops.

Paris.—American batteries took active part in the artillery bombardment in connection with the large French raid in the Champagne, it is announced officially.

A German attempt against a small French post north of Pargny-Plain (Aisne front) was repulsed. There were lively artillery actions in the region east of Rheims, in the Champagne. In the large raid American batteries gave very effective support. French troops organized the positions captured on that day in the region southwest of Butte du Meunil.

FORMER AMBASSADOR DIES

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice Dies Suddenly at His Home in Ottawa of Heart Trouble.

Ottawa, Ont.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, formerly British ambassador to the United States, died of heart failure at government house. Lady Spring-Rice and his son and daughter, Betty and Anthony, aged 11 and 9, respectively, were with him.

The diplomat passed away while virtually in his sleep. Sir Cecil had complained of not feeling well, and Dr. Thomas Gibson was summoned shortly after midnight, but the patient expired from heart failure not long after he arrived. The diplomat had been ailing for some time and his last public appearance while ambassador was when he delivered an address before the Canadian club here on the diplomatic side of the war.

Then the Bishop Understood.

Apologies of the Phillips Brooks anniversary, the great bishop took note of things in his daily walks about town. One day he saw a gang of street department employees using their hoses, picks and shovels in such a languid and leisurely manner that he felt moved to chide them for their slothfulness.

"My friends, are you supposed to be working for the city of Boston?" inquired the bishop.

"No, sir; we're working for $2.50 a day, please your reverence," said the spokesman of the gang.

The bishop passed on.

AND NOW THEY ARE COOKING TOBACCO TO MAKE IT BETTER

For a good many years The American Tobacco Company have been conducting a series of experiments having as their object the improvement of smoking tobaccos.

It is interesting to know that one of the greatest of their discoveries was one of the simplest, and that was, that cooking or toasting tobacco improved it in every way, just as cooking most foods improves them.

They took a real Burley tobacco, grown in this country; toasted it as you would toast bread; moistened it to replace the natural moisture driven off by toasting; made it into cigarettes, called them "LUCKY STRIKE, the toasted cigarette," and offered them to the public.

The result has been the greatest demand ever created for any tobacco product in a similar length of time.

The change produced by toasting is not only most wholesome, but the flavor is greatly improved, just as cooking improves meat, for example.—Adv.

EAT LIBERALLY OF POTATO CROP

War Duty to Save Large Yield of Tubers by Eating Them.

HOW ALL PEOPLE CAN HELP

Heavy Loss of This Perishable Food May Result if Americans Do Not Use It More Liberally—Less Bread Is Needed.

You may know it already, but it will bear repetition now when it is important that everybody eat liberally of the big potato crop; that potatoes are an excellent food for your body; that they are good fuel; that one medium-sized potato gives you as much starch as two slices of bread; that, like other vegetables, they give you salts which you need to build and renew all the parts of your body and keep it in order.

Potatoes furnish starch which burns in your muscles to let you work, much as the gasoline burns in an automobile engine to make the car go. When you have potatoes for a meal you need less bread. Potatoes can save wheat.

An old king is said to have tested each cook before hiring him by asking:

SAVE A LITTLE SUGAR TODAY.

Use Sweet Fruits.

Sugar consumption in many households can be easily lowered not only by giving preference to dishes which contain little sugar or with which sugar is not usually served, but also by the use of sweet fruits. For instance, fresh fruits or baked apples may serve instead of sweet puddings, or a salad in place of dessert. Sweet, dried fruits such as dates, raisins or figs served with breakfast cereals will reduce the sugar needs.

him to boil a potato. Even the best potato can be spoiled by a poor cook.

To boil them so that they will be "fit for a king," drop the unpeeled potatoes into boiling salted water and cook 20 to 30 minutes. Drain the water off at once. If they are cooked too long or allowed to stand in the water they get soggy.

Peeling Is Wasteful.

If you peel the potatoes before cooking them you will waste time and potatoes both. You may throw away a sixth or even a quarter of the good part of the potato with the skins. Also, if the potatoes aren't covered up by the skins while cooking, some of the valuable material will soak out into the water. Even very small potatoes can be economically used, if they are boiled in their skins.

POTATOES 28 WAYS—DO YOU KNOW OTHERS?

It is said that there are more than 100 ways to cook potatoes, from the primitive (and still probably the best) methods of boiling or baking with the skins on, to the most complex and seasoned dishes. Here are some of the ways known to the United States department of agriculture. Have you tried them all, or do you know about as many more?

boiled potatoes, mash and beat until very light, adding salt, butter or oleomargarine and hot milk, a half cup of milk to six potatoes.

Potato Sausages.

- | | |
|--------------------------|--------------------------------|
| 1 cupful mashed potatoes | 1/2 teaspoonful salt |
| 1 cupful ground beef | 1/2 teaspoonful pepper |
| 1 egg, well beaten | Salt pork, bacon, or other fat |

Mix the mashed potatoes and seasonings with the ground meat, fish or meat. Add beaten egg. Form into little cakes of sausages, roll in flour and place in greased pan with a small piece of fat or salt pork on each sausage. Bake in a fairly hot oven until brown.

Scalloped Potatoes and Cheese.

Arrange a layer of sliced raw or boiled potatoes in greased baking dish and sprinkle with grated cheese and a little flour. Repeat until dish is nearly full. Pour milk over the whole, about one-half cupful to every three potatoes. Skim milk is good. Bake in a moderate oven until done. The length of time required depends upon whether the potatoes are raw or boiled and whether the baking dish used is deep or shallow. Boiled potatoes baked in a shallow dish will take only 20 minutes. Raw potatoes in a deep dish may take as much as one and one-half hours.

Potato Puffs.

| 1 cupful hot mashed potatoes | 1/2 teaspoonful salt |
| 1 egg, well beaten | 1/2 teaspoonful pepper |
| 1 egg, well beaten | 1/2 teaspoonful parmesan |
| 1 egg, well beaten | 1/2 teaspoonful chives |

Beat yolk into the mashed potatoes and add seasonings. Beat the white of egg very stiff and fold into the potatoes. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased pan and bake until a golden brown.

Shepherd's Pie.

Grease a baking dish; cover the bottom with mashed potatoes. Add minced meat or fish seasoned well and mixed with the thickened meat stock or with white sauce. Pile the mashed potatoes lightly over the top to cover. Bake in oven 30 to 35 minutes until a delicate brown on top.

HOME TOWN HELPS

ALIVE TO VALUE OF PARKS

Big and Little Cities Throughout the Country Continue to Plan Extension of Systems.

The great war which has exerted a disquieting effect on many beneficial activities the world over seems not to have interfered with the progress of American municipalities in doing the things that should be done for their citizens. From all parts of the United States go out reports of municipal bond issues for new and extended parks. The great cities of New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago are not content with their expenditures of millions upon millions in years gone by for parks. They are spending more and more. And their example is being followed by scores and hundreds of smaller cities. The story of how Kansas City surmounted topographical eccentricities to create a park system is as well known as the story of Kansas City's pre-eminence in the supply of beef for the markets of the world. Harrisburg, Pa., recently paused to contemplate in a public celebration its improvements achievements during the past eleven years, notable among which has been the acquirement of 58 acres of park land, equal to one acre for every 76 of its population. Lincoln, Neb., has just passed a bond issue of $50,000, to buy park lands, and a public-spirited citizen has donated to the city a beautiful tract of land worth thousands of dollars for the same purpose. Chattanooga, Seattle, Spokane, El Paso, San Antonio, Dallas, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Detroit, Rochester, Columbus, O., and Columbus, Ga., Jacksonville, Charlotte, N. C., Springfield, O., and Springfield, Mass., Hartford, Conn., St. Louis, and so on in an almost endless chain, are all working out the park problems in a notable manner.

BEAUTY IN HOME GROUNDS

Much May Be Done With a Little Care and Work, and the Results Are Gratifying.

The ground surrounding the typical city residence is not a thing to catch the eye in search of beauty. Usually it is a plain expanse of lawn with here and there a tree to relieve the monotony and provide some shade. A little shrubbery around the porch is also frequently seen, but often it is scrawny, showing that it has been chosen at random, poorly planted and poorly kept. This condition is so general that the exceptional yards seldom fail to attract attention to themselves, and incidentally to the neglected yards.

The war garden movement last year led many who had grown away from planting to revert to the inherent instinct in every person to see things grow and to help them. Many were surprised that their small kitchen gardens began to take time which formerly went to outdoor sports, and that the pleasure was fully as great. The benefits are likewise as readily recognizable. If this interest can be sustained, it is probable that there will be a revival of the home flower garden, and more general interest in the beautification of home grounds.

Men Insist on Eating Meat.

"There are, of course, wasteful families, but most incomes are not elastic enough to admit of much wanton throwing away of good food," a writer says in the Woman's Home Companion. "It is safe to say that a large portion of such waste as there is is caused by the 'simple, plain'—but expensive—tastes of the American man. It is not only the big Johns, but the little Johns, of the country who emulate in conduct the ranchman who rambled into a New York restaurant, and, having read the menu, clenched a knife and fork in each fist, and, bringing them down on the table, cried out in a fearless voice, 'Meat!'"

"This cry of 'meat!' went up in tens of thousands of homes after patriotic women tried to put into effect the substitute menus."

Fuel May Be Cause of Cancer.

A Scotch physician has just completed an extensive series of researches into the incidence of cancer which lead him to some novel conclusions. He finds that in Scotland and the Scotch islands the percentage of cancer is particularly high in coal-burning districts and low in peat-burning districts. There are some exceptions to this rule and in every such case he finds that the peat-burning district with a high death rate from cancer burns a peat with a high percentage of sulphur. Thus he concludes that coals and peats with a high sulphur content used as a fuel have a direct connection with the development of cancer.

New Civic Pride Plan.

Erect a miniature jail on a prominent corner and through the barred windows exhibit photographs of houses and grounds that need fixing up.

This is the "city beautiful" plan of a Milwaukee councilman. "When people let their weeds grow or rubbish accumulate, give them publicity," he adds. The council is considering the plan.

Fads And Fancies Of Fashion

WINNING THE DEBUTANTE'S SMILE.

It is silk and cotton for summer frocks, and here are two of them designed for the young girl, that will make her more than glad that she is alive in a silk and cotton summer.

All the pretty, old-time glugham patterns have been interpreted in taffeta and voile and their inventors of long ago would be delighted with their elegance and daintiness in these fine-grained fabrics. Some of the new frocks in plaid or crossbar taffeta go to the length of copying apron styles.

The pretty frock of corn-colored, crossbar taffeta shown at the left of the picture has the plainest and simplest of pleasant waists, made of plain corn-colored taffeta, with sleeves of georgette crepe. It has patch pockets ruffled across the top, that design to remind us of the apron pockets, and an ingenious collar made just to suit the frock. This little model is satisfied with a plain, straight and narrow skirt, that turns neither to the right nor to the left, but pursues its way undisturbed by ruffle or tuck, to the ankles of its wearers. It proclaims the straight silhouette and leaves us guessing as to just where it fastens.

A pretty dress at the right is made of fine voile over a slip of silk. The skirt of voile is gathered at the waist line so that it has considerable fullness, but it is not draped. Just at the

ment by the extra length of the skirt which reaches almost to the instep.

Now is the time to dispose of all lingerie matters, simple or otherwise; for at this season of the year merchants make a concerted effort to show and sell new undergarments and the materials for making them. Petticoats and camisoles and their next of kin, princess slips, are the subjects under discussion here.

Shadow lace proves the best of assets when the time comes to design camisoles. It is wide enough to make the body of the camisole and the pointed or scalloped edge provides for graceful shape. Camisoles are made of it by adding a band of ribbon, or wide beading to the straight edge for the waistline, and banding the lace with narrow ribbon stitched on. Where the lace has large points, two of them at the front and two at the back form "V"-shaped lines here and under the arms, that are graceful. Ribbons, stitched to these scallops or points are extended into shoulder straps.

In princess slips the bodice is often cut in the shape described above and finished with a narrow hem. Below the hem Valenciennes lace insertion is let in. Narrow skirts set into the bodice with a narrow belt have a series of tucks edged with val lace running about them. They are usually made of right it is split and cut at the bottom so that the voile falls in a cascade. The bodice is draped from the shoulders and bloused at the waistline. The popular chemise is indispensable in a waist draped in this way, and appears less in flit lace over taffeta lace over taffeta silk. The sleeves are full and gathered into a little frill above the elbows. There is a soft, ribbon girde with long ends looped over at the front. It takes slender bead tassels to weigh the ends so that they will hang properly. A spray of small garden flowers is tucked into the girde at the front, and there is pretty, quaint suggestion is supplied flesh-colored crepe de chine. White batiste remains a favorite for petticoats and nothing supplants small tucks and fine narrow laces for trimming them, in the regard of refined women. But all petticoats must be made to conform to the slender silhouette; lines must be straight.

The reliable taffeta petticoat for daily wear is shown in the picture, finished with a scant, corded flounce hemmed at the bottom. Like everything else, it is most liked in plain styles.

Our boys are defending this country on the high seas and on the land. Our own defense against a common enemy is to keep the system clean by ridding the body of the toxins, or poisons, which are bred in the intestines. When you feel tired, sleepy, headachy, when your breath is offensive, or pimples appear on the face and neck, it is time to recognize the danger and protect your bodily health by taking something for the liver such as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

The machinery of the body needs to be oiled, kept in good condition, just as the guns or machinery of a ship. Why should a human person neglect his own machinery more than that of his automobile or his guns? Yet most people do neglect themselves. Their tongue has a dark brown color, skin sallow, breath bad, yet they fail to see that their machinery needs attention.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have been known for nearly half a century. They are made of May-apple, leaves of aloe and jalap, made into a tiny pellet and coated with sugar. They are standard and efficacious. You can obtain them at any drug store in vials for twenty-five cents. Ask for Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—and get no other!

True to Tradition.

An English, Irish and Scottish soldier were returning to camp after a stroll. They were footsore and tired, and a kindly farmer on his way home from market gave them a lift on the road.

The soldiers were very grateful and wished to reward the farmer for his kindness.

Said the Englishman: "Let's stand him a drink!"

"Sure," said Pat, "that is agin the law. Let's give him some baccy."

"Hoot, ma laddies!" interjected the Scot. "Don't be extravagant. Let's shake hands with the mon and wish him good night."—Tit-Bits.

HEALTH RESTORED

Serious Kidney Trouble Was Removed by Doan's and Results Have Been Permanent.

"Kidney trouble put me in a bad way," says Thomas A. Knight, 624 N. Ninth St., East St. Louis, Ill. "It came on with pain across my back and the attacks kept getting worse until I had a spell that laid me up. Morphine was the only relief and I couldn't move without help. The kidney secretions were scanty, painful and filled with sediment."

"I was unable to leave the house, couldn't rest and became utterly exhausted. The only way I could take care was by bolstering myself up with pillows. For three months I was in that awful condition and the doctor said I had gravel. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me back to good health and I have gained wonderfully in strength and weight."

Signed before me, A. M. EGGMANN, Notary Public. ALMOST THREE YEARS LATER, May 24, 1917, Mr. Knight said: "The cure Doan's brought me has been permanent."

PISO'S

MARRIAGES

Miss Nell Clifton left Sunday day for Miami, Fla., where she and Guy M. Conyer of Memphis Tenn., were united in marriage yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Charles accompanied her to Hopkinsville and her nephew Frank Newcom met her at Jacksonville and accompanied her to Miami.

The bride is the youngest daughter of the late James H. Clifton, of Dycusburg. She and her mother have resided here for several years and she has many friends here. The groom is a son of the late Q. M. Conyer and for many years was associated with his father and mother in the Hotel business here. He is now in the Aero Department of the U. S. Government training camp.

They will reside in Memphis when the war is over.

James--Bigham

Ercil James and Miss Iva Bigham eloped on the south bound train Friday afternoon for Clarksville, Tenn., accompanied by Virgil Hughes, where they were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Justice of the Peace Wiley Smith, Feb. 16. Both are splendid young people and their many friends wish them a happy voyage through life.

The bride is one of county's best teachers. She was teaching school at Going Springs, but her young husband having been called by Uncle Sam, she has decided to give up her school to be with her soldier boy what time he has to stay with his bonny bride.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bigham, of Marion, Ky. The groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Smith James of this county. They will leave soon for Akron, Ohio, to visit his brother, George, and family, before he leaves for Camp Zachary Taylor, where he will go forth to discharge his duty as a true American soldier.

GUARD AGAINSS SORE THROAT

Be on your guard right now against sore throat. The atmosphere is chock full of germs that cause sore throat and, if your system is the least bit clogged up or weakened, which is likely at this time of year, after eating heavy foods all winter, you want to give it a thorough cleansing at once by nature's own method, but not by taking nasty, old calomel or other drastic cathartics. Just get a bottle of Vin Hepatica, the universal system purifier and tonic. It will cleanse your liver, kidneys, bowels and your entire system and restore your vitality, thus guarding you against colds, sore throat and pneumonia, and other maladies so prevalent this time of year. It is nature's own preventive, as well as remedy, and we so recommend it.

DEATHS

D. W. Brookshire, an aged soldier, died Friday morning Feb. 15, at his home on east Depot Street, in this city, of La Grippe. He had not been well all winter, but his family did not realize he was so near death. His physician was called to see him Thursday afternoon, and left medicine and informed his family that he was in a right bad shape. His wife was up and gave him medicine at 2 o'clock, and got up at 4 to give him another dose, and found him dead in bed as if asleep, he had passed away with out a struggle. The funeral was preached at his home Saturday morning, by Rev's Hosea Paris, and J. B. Trotter, and the interment took place at Crayne in the presence of a large concourse of friends and old neighbors.

David Watts Brookshire was born near Deer Creek, this county Feb. 2nd, 1840, and was therefore just 78 years of age, most of which was spent in this county, he lived in Ill's a short time, and was absent from this county while in the Union Army.

He was shot in the ankle in the first battle he was in at Fort Donelson, and carried the bullet to his grave. He was seriously wounded Apr. 7, 1862, in the great battle around Shiloh, a bullet passing through him, across his hip, just missing his spinal column. The Surgeon who dressed the wound passed a silk cloth back and forth through the wound to remove all danger of infection. He never recovered entirely from this wound, but suffered with it all his life. Mr Brookshire was a member of Co. E. 48Inf, and his death removes all but six members of that famous band.

The six surviving are J. Mac Walker, and G. W. L. Nisbet, of Marion, I. B. F. Hodge, Arkansas, S. A. Davidson, Levas, Hugh McMaster, Ima, Joseph Mason, Cave In Rock Ill.

He was married Oct 27th 1864 to Miss Letha Jane Long, and she with five children survive him, one son, Wyatt, of Dixon, Ky. and 4 daughters, George Ann wife of Will Malney, of Mattoon Mary Tom, wife of Joel Moore of this city, Minnie, wife of Frank Crayne of Zillah Wash. and Ida wife of Oscar Woodall of Enor, two sisters also survive him, they being Mrs Gus Kimsey of Winfield Kansas, and Mrs Mary Johnndrew of California, and two half brothers, Al and Newt of Winfield Kansas.

Rev. James Riley Clark died at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday morning of tuberculosis of the brain. He was in his 70th year, having been born July 26th, 1848.

Parmelea C. Burklow was his wife's maiden name, and she with seven children survive him, their names being Elvy, wife of Gid Rushing; Mattie, wife of Hosea Hunt; Nannie, wife of Robert E. Allen, of Arenzville, Ill.; Nellie, wife of James Hunt; Wm. and Frank, who live some where in Missouri; and Prof. Edward Clark, of this city. Two brothers survive, being Lemuel and O. Louis Clark, and four sisters, Harriet Hughes, Callie Jennings, Lucy Jane Jamés and Mary E. McNeely.

The deceased was born in Smith county, Tenn., and moved here with his parents when an infant and has lived here his three score and ten years.

He was a member for many years of the Primitive Baptist church at Pleasant Hill but later moved his membership to the Sec. Baptist church in this city. The funeral was held at the Second Baptist church of this city, conducted by his pastor, Rev. Hosea Paris, Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and the remains were buried in the Paris graveyard.

Wm. F. McConnell, of Shady Grove, a bachelor, died Monday evening at his home in Shady Grove of asthma and other bronchial troubles. The remains were laid to rest Tuesday in the Olive Branch graveyard.

He is survived by four brothers, John C. of the Cave Spring section; Thomas J. of this city; Richard T. of Hanson, Ky., and Jefferson D. of Shady Grove; and two sisters, Mrs. A. J. Pickens, of this city, and Mrs. S. A. Clement, of Leitchfield.

He was born Aug. 1858, and was therefore in his 60th year, and was a member of the Methodist church.

SELF DEFENSE

DEFEAT BACKACHE AND KIDNEY TROUBLE WITH ANURIC.

Many Kentucky people have suffered from rheumatism and kidney trouble and have found that Anurie was the most successful remedy to overcome these painful and dangerous ailments.

The lucky people are those who have suffered, but who are now well because they heeded nature's warning signal in time to correct their trouble with that wonderful new discovery of Dr. Pierce's called "Anurie." You should promptly heed these warnings, some of which are dizzy spells, backache, irregularity of the urine or the painful twinges of rheumatism, sciatica or lumbago. To delay may make possible the dangerous forms of kidney disease, such as Bright's disease, diabetes or stone in the bladder.

To overcome these distressing conditions you should take plenty of exercise in the open air, avoid a heavy meat diet, drink freely of water and eat only good, take Dr. Pierce's Anurie Tablets (Genuine strength). You will, in a short time, find that you are one of the firm believers of Anurie, as are thousands of your neighbors. Send for trial package.

Address: Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel Bunalto, N. Y., and enclose 10 cents.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—"Some time ago I received, by request, a trial package of Dr. Pierce's Anurie Tablets. I found them of great benefit in my case of cystitis. After using the trial package I then used a full-sized box, and am now completely cured. I feel that Anurie is one of the greatest discoveries."—WALTER E. HESS, 3429 Duncan Street.
